

Why Elixir?

- Elixir is a functional programming language that runs on the BEAM virtual machine.
- It is especially comfortable for many independent, communicating processes.
- That makes it a natural fit for web servers, IoT, distributed systems, and audio/video pipelines.
- The interesting question for this talk: what actually happens when two nodes talk?

